

Two free changes to turn views into inquiries

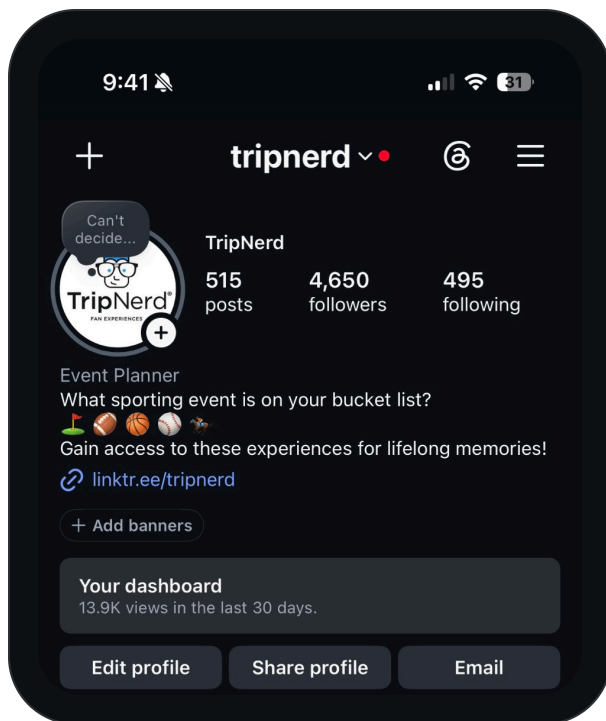

TripNerd's posts drew 13.9K views in the last 30 days, but followers fell 1.8%. People are seeing the content and leaving without a next step. These two changes give them one.

Prepared for: TripNerd CEO Prepared by: _____

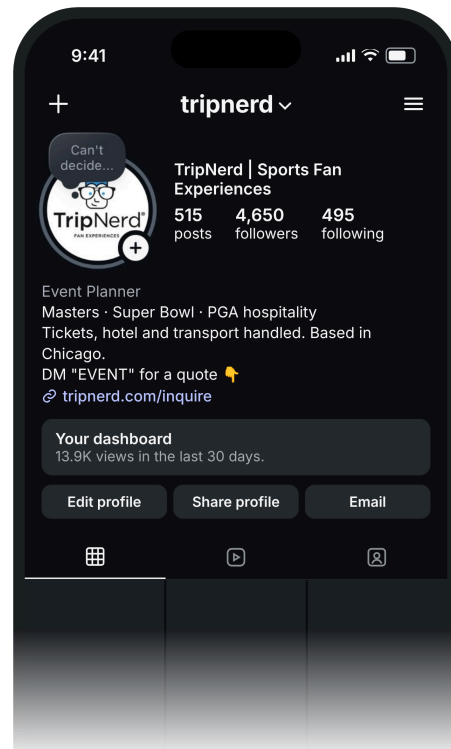

CHANGE 1

Rewrite the bio

TODAY

PROPOSED

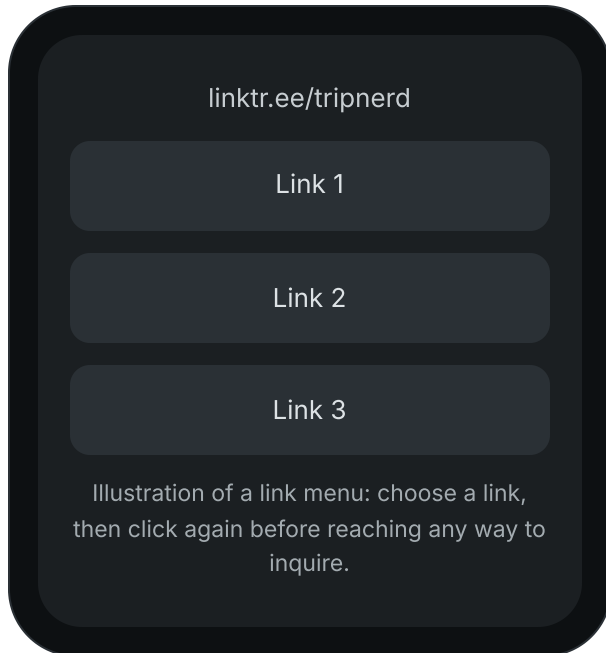

Why:

- A visitor learns in seconds which events TripNerd covers and that everything is handled.
- "DM 'EVENT'" is one easy step, and every message can be counted.
- The old bio can be restored in a minute. Nothing is deleted.

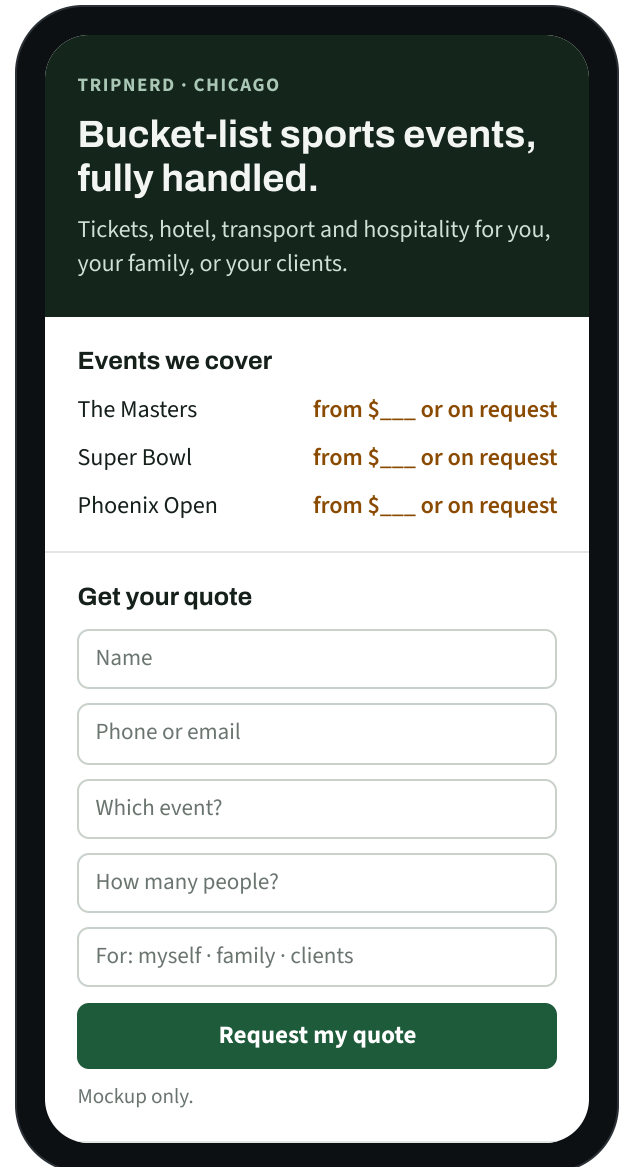

CHANGE 2

Replace the Linktree with one inquiry page

TODAY

PROPOSED

Why:

- One tap from Instagram to an inquiry, instead of a menu of links.
- Every lead arrives with the event, group size, and whether it's a corporate sale.
- Inquiries can be counted, so we can see which posts and ads bring them in.

Two questions for you

Question 1: Should we pin three posts to the top of the profile?

Suggested: the events TripNerd covers, one client's story, and how booking works. Pinned posts are the first thing a visitor sees, and these three answer "what do you do, can I trust you, how do I book." Client photos would be used only with the client's permission.

☐ Yes, pin these three

☐ Yes, but different posts

☐ No

Question 2: Can we show pricing publicly?

Showing a starting price filters out people who can't afford it, so your team spends time on real buyers. Some events or partners may not allow published prices. We'll follow whatever you choose.

☐ Show "from $" prices

☐ Some events only

☐ "Price on request"

Nothing goes live without your sign-off. The event list and "Based in Chicago" come from TripNerd's public profiles and need your confirmation.

Mockups are for discussion, not live pages. "Today" profile image and the logo in the proposed mockup: TripNerd's Instagram, October 8, 2026. The link address is an example.